

Region hangs tough despite challenges

At this point the region as a whole is not doing too badly. Solo has done very well to this point. Race has lost money this year but that is true across the nation and from what I can tell we are more or less at the average for the drop in the number of drivers. Rally is doing reasonably well and has an event coming up in Pomeroy at the end of September.

We will soon be doing our third Street Survival class for the year. This is a greatly popular program for teaching teens safer driving and we have also done adult classes. We would like to do more classes a year but are having trouble finding sites. It requires a pad of at least 100 by 100 feet without obstacles.

REGION REPORT

TOM MASTERSON
REGIONAL EXECUTIVE

We are looking for suggestions for the regional awards. They may be sent to nwr.membership@gmail.com.

Mary Pang Unsung Hero Award: As in all volunteer organizations, there are many positions and many tasks that are accomplished by many visible people in the Northwest Region. The Unsung Hero Award gives us a chance to recognize someone who accomplishes many tasks without that high visibility. The winner of this award generally is another one of those obsessive-compulsive types who quietly volunteers, works their butt off and is mostly seen on the sidelines. This trophy is to be awarded to an individual who works behind the scenes to further venue and region activities.

Frank and Joan Manley Enthusiast Award: This trophy is given to a Northwest Region member who exhibits qualities of enthusiasm and willingness to be involved in region activities. Sometimes it is difficult to find just one person with such unbridled enthusiasm in a region like ours that has three very active venues running at a full gallop.

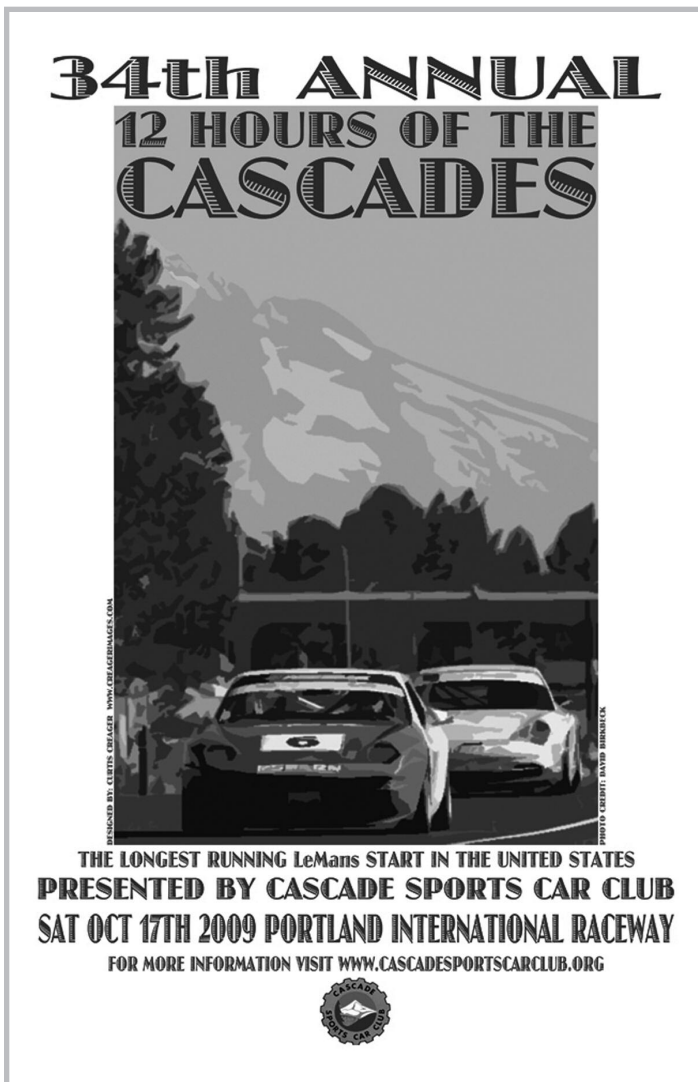

Stan Burnett Inspirational Award: This trophy was established by the family of Stan Burnett, who was killed at Seattle International Raceway while testing his race car in 1971. It is to be awarded to an individual whose lifestyle exhibits the determination, energy, loyalty, sensitivity and love that Stan showed in his life.

We are also once again at nomination time for Northwest Region board members. The positions for election are two members at large, assistant regional executive, secretary and treasurer. You may send nominees to bod@nwr-scca.org. Nominations will close by the end of our board meeting on Oct. 5. We will then have to count ballots, which will be due by Nov. 1.

If there is only one nominee for each position we are not required to send out ballots as it is assumed that the position is uncontested.

The assistant RE is currently held by John Fore-spring, secretary is Sherri Masterson, treasurer is Lou Ann Christensen and the members at large are Jay Shukla and Tracy Manspeaker.
